TWITTER-SOCIAL MEDIA APPLICATION

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE APPLICATION

I choose twitter for my project because it is one of the best social media platforms for communication. In this platform every user has the freedom to convey his opinion in the form of tweets. Where every user can do retweets for others tweets which is one of the highlight features of twitter. The interesting point in twitter is its User Interface where it was very comfortable for a new user to use. It will suggest the tweets which were made by the celebrities from whom we follow. Twitter website was made in a way where the count of likes, and tweets can be automatically updated without doing the refresh. This was implemented with the help of jQuery and Ajax.

In this project we can explore many things other than the user registration, tweets, and retweets. When a user wants to comment on someone in a tweet, he can clearly mention the specific person. If a user wants to see the amount of tweets and likes which he made from his account can be shown. The search bar in this website helps in finding the other user profiles. User profile has been designed in a way where he is able to see the total number of followers and total number of followers by him in real time.

Tweets may contain a variety of attributes including the content of the tweet, for instance, the content of the tweet and the date they were posted. They also contain the username of the individual who made the tweet. Another type of data that must be recorded in the database is the comments. Tweets can contain one, zero, or even more comments. The tables that keep comments will contain the ID of tweet, user ID as well as the message. The likes are the final item that needs to be stored within the database. Users' and comments should be linked to likes. This helps determine the tweets that were liked by whom.

Tweets can include a number of different features, such as the content of the tweet and the date it was tweeted, among others. Additionally, they include the user name of the tweeter. The comments are another category of data that has to be stored in the database. Comments on tweets can be one, zero, or even more. The tweet ID, user ID, and message will all be included in the tables that store comments. The last thing that has to be stored in the database is the likes. Likes and comments ought to be connected. This makes it easier to identify who liked which tweets.

ENTITY RELATIONSHIP DIAGRAM :

Entity Relationship Diagram of Twitter

The Entity Relationship Diagram depicts information about five distinct entities. They are: Users, LoginDetails, Comments, Tweets and Network. Foreign and primary keys serve to connect two entities.

The User entity is the primary entity. SQL will display the entity in a table which includes the columns listed below. A few users might prefer to make tweets. Tweets can only be owned by one individual. So, the relationship between tweets and users is one of many.

Tweets, which are the second element in the database, has numerous characteristics. The tweet ID (post_id) is the primary attribute. It is a type of variable. The second attribute in the tweets attribute, which is the text_cont. The body column contains the tweet's message.

The LoginDetails is the following attribute. Userid serves as the entity's main key and contains all of the user's login information, including username, password, validator, email address, and mobile number. Username also serves as a foreign key that points to the users entity with an attribute named username.

The Comment is the another entry within the database. The table will have several columns, including the ID of the comment, the message, that was updated and created at the time of comment, and the ID for the comment.

Network is nothing more than followers, which are the last record in a database and consist of a user ID, the person who was followed, and the date on which they were followed.

The next step is to provide you with some data as well as the queries used to fill the database.

Ans : show full tables;

USE CASES-Neo4j

1. Retrieve all tweets and posts made by users that the user "testuser50" is following.

Ans : MATCH (n:Tweets{posted_by: 'testuser50'}) return n

2. Get a list of all users' email addresses from the current database.

Ans : MATCH (n) WHERE (n.emailid) IS NOT NULL
RETURN DISTINCT n.emailid as Email_address

3. Retrieve all the Users

Ans : MATCH (C:User) RETURN C;

4. Retrieve all the LoginDetails of users such as username, password, emailed and mobile number.

15. Retrieving the likes, retweets, comments in Tweet table.

Ans : Match(t:Tweets) Return t.likes_count, t.retweets_count, t.comments_count

The screenshot shows the Neo4j Browser interface. On the left, the 'Use database' dropdown is set to 'twitter'. The 'Node Labels' section includes 'User', 'Comment', 'LoginDetails', 'Network', 'Tweet', and 'Like'. The 'Relationship Types' section includes 'Tweet', 'Comment on', 'Commented', 'Followed by', 'LoginDetails Of', and 'Posted by'. The 'Property Keys' section includes 'commented by', 'commented on', 'comments count', 'commenttext', 'email id', 'first name', 'followed date', 'followingby', 'last name', 'like', and 'likes count'. The main query editor contains the following Cypher query:

1 MATCH(t:Tweets)
2 RETURN t.likes_count, t.retweets_count, t.comments_count

The results are displayed in a table with three columns: 'likes_count', 'retweets_count', and 'comments_count'. The table contains six rows of data:

	likes_count	retweets_count	comments_count
1	23	8	14
2	24	18	3
3	21	3	9
4	28	8	1
5	12	21	9
6	25	14	12

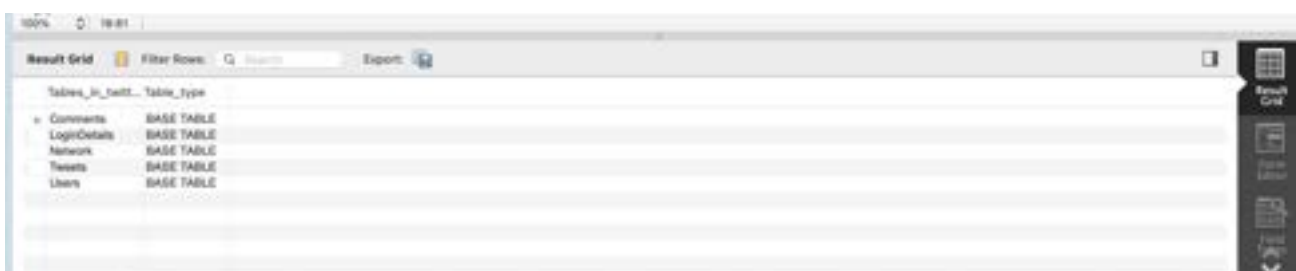

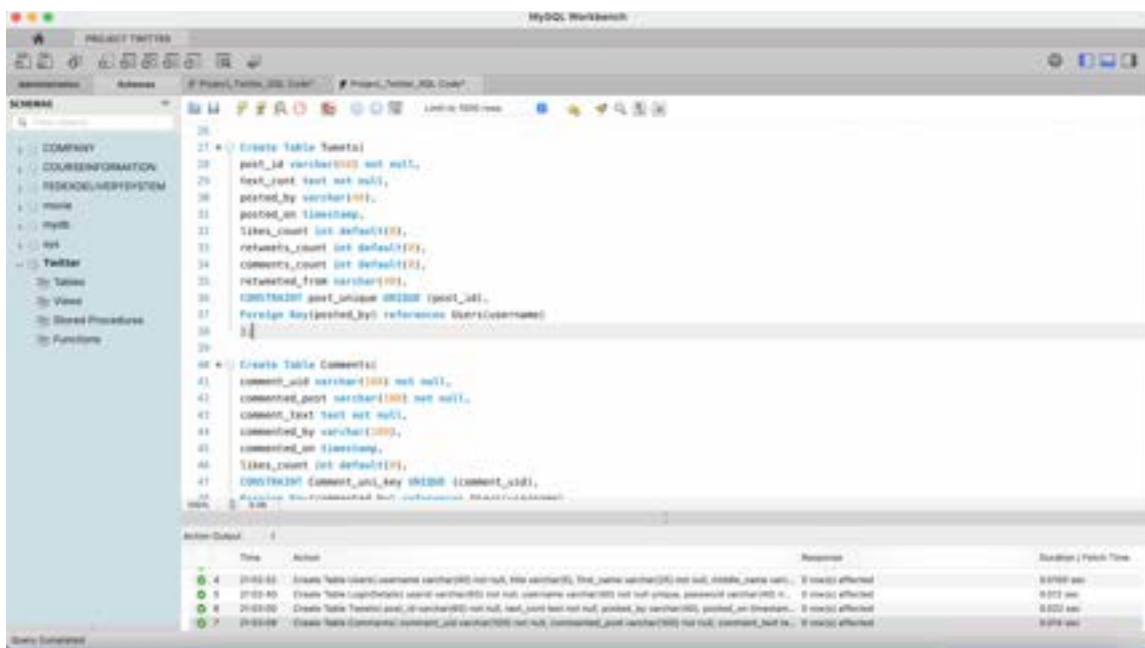

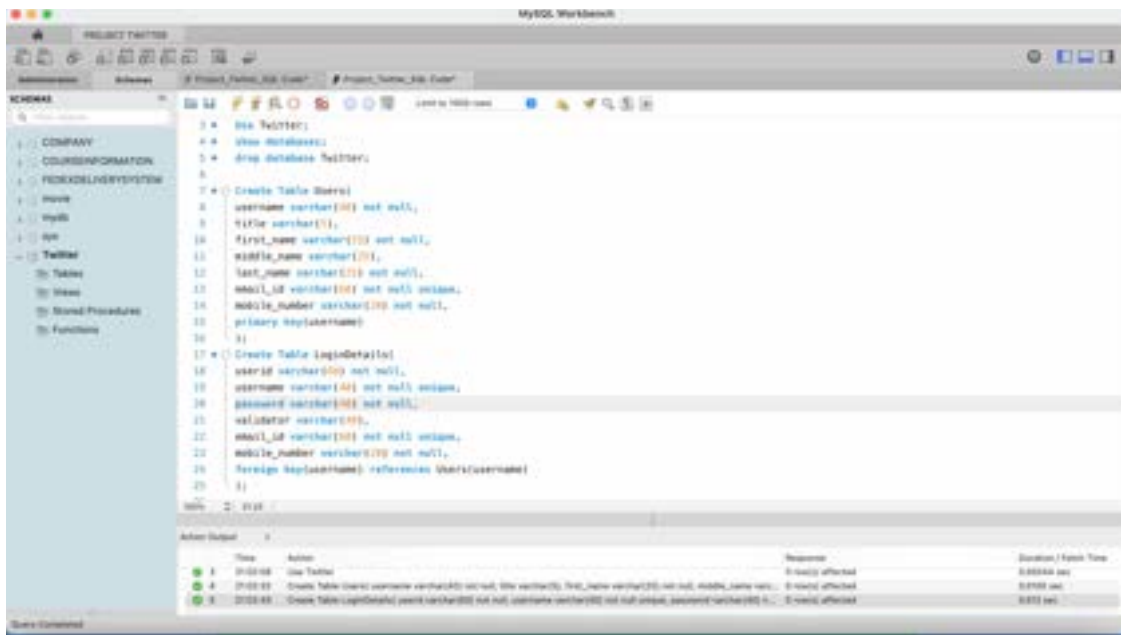

At the bottom, a status message reads: 'Started streaming 100 records after 1 ms and completed after 2 ms.'
